TO THE TOMBS OF CZARS.

THE RODY OF ALEXANDER III, ON THE WAY TO ST. PETERSBURG. Impressive Services in the Church at Liva-dis. The Embarkment for Sevastopaltear's Father - Food for the Poor. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 8. The most solemn religious services were held at noon yesterday in the church at Livadia, to which the body of Alexander III, was removed on the previous night. Masses were said in the presence of the body. The services were attended by Emperor Nicholas II., the Czarina, and the Prince and Princess of Wales, the representatives of various foreign powers, and many others. The Czar was deeply affected. At the conclusion of the services and after the royal visitors present and the troops had viewed the body the populace were formed in line and filed past the coffin to take a farewell look at their dead ruler. Many of those who looked upon the face of the dead Czar were visibly affected and expressions of sorrow were heard on all sides.

The weather this morning had improved, and arrangements were early perfected for the removal of the dead Emperor to Sebastopol. The cortice left the church at 8 o'clock. The procession was headed by the chief of the palace police and the master of ceremonies, both mounted, followed by a numerous troop of soldiers, including the Crimean division, composed of Fartars; then followed long files of servants of the imperial family-footmen and domestics. Next in line were representatives of the Zemstvo, or district assembly, the municipal authorities, the public schools, and the public instituons of the Yalta district.

All of the dead Czar's Russian and foreign decorations were carried on a cushion covere with silver cloth. Immediately behind the bearers of this pillow came the clergy bearing lighted candles. Then followed the coffin, borne by members of the imperial body guard and by members of the imperial body guard and sailors from the imperial yachts. The cortége proceeded on foot from Livadia to Valta, a distance of two miles, along the beautiful coast.
Following the coffin came the Czar and his suite, the Prince of Wales, and the Russian Grand Dukes, then the Czarina and the Grand Duchess, in mourning coaches.
The entire route of the procession was lined with troops.

Upon the arrival of the cortége at Yalta prayers were offered for the repose of the soul of the dead Emperor, and a salute was fired both from the shore and from the ships in the harbor. The coffin was then placed on board the cruiser Pamiat Merkooria and the journey to Sevastopol was begun. The Pamiat Merkooria will be excorted by the ironclad Twelve Apostles and the cruiser Oriol.

The preparations for the funeral of Alexander.

the cruiser Oriol.

The preparations for the funeral of Alexander III. are proceeding rapidly. The funeral services will be held in the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. The tomb selected as the final esting place of the Czar's body adjoins that of Alexander II. The cathedral contains the bodies of all the Russian Emperors who have reigned since Peter the Great.

of all the Bussian Emperors who have reigned since Peter the Great.

The Municipal Council have passed a vote of 50,000 roubles to be used in draping the city.

The Municipal Council to-day voted an unlimited credit for the purpose of defraying the exponses of the reception here to Emperor Nicholas II. and the funeral of Emperor Alexander III. and also for the orection of a monument to the dead Czar.

The Council also adopted a proposal to open a national subscription for a monument to the late Emperor to be erected in St. Petersburg.

An imperial order was promulgated to-day initiating with a gift of £7,000 a subscription for the purpose of giving a dinner to the poor of Kharkoff the day after the passing through that city of the train bearing the late Czar's Minister Council Versette Backets.

body.

Court Minister Count Vorontzoff-Dachkoff, acting for the Czar and Czarina, has thanked the Hebrew residents of St. Petersburg for their message of condolence upon the death of Alexander III. and for the loyal and patriotic sentiments expressed by them.

The Czar, it is announced, will continue Count Vorontzoff-Dachkoff in his present position of Court Minister.

Vorontzoff-Dachkoff in his present position of Court Minister.

A despatch dated at Yalta last evening said:

"The body has been taken into the chapel and lies on a gilded catafalque shaded with palms, directly under the dome. It is clad in the green and gold uniform of the First Regiment. The hands are folded on the breast, which is strewn thickly with orders. The face and scalp have been enamelled white. The figure has shrunk noticeably, but there is no change in the face, excepting the pallor of death. The feet are turned toward the altar."

At the mass in Livadia yesterday morning the Bishop of Simferopol officiated. He was assisted by all the district clergy, in white vestments. The service was intoned with magnificent effect. The second service, heid in the afternoon, was attended by many army officers, whose brillians at the body. They were followed by hundreds of civilians.

During the last two days of his life Alexander.

the body. They were followed by hundreds of civilians.

During the last two days of his life Alexander III. discussed at length with the present Czar the state of family affairs. He dictated the letter by which the news of his death was to be communicated to the heads of other States. This letter began with the words, "My father is no longer among the living." It gave the assurance that Nicholas II. would continue his father's foreign policy and do his best to reign in all other respects as did his father. The communication was eventually sent by Nicholas II. directly, as his father desired, and without previous reference to the Ministers.

was eventually sent by Nicholas II. directly, as his father desired, and without previous reference to the Ministers.

King Alexander of Servia will come to the funeral. Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria will send a delegate, and the Sobranje will be represented probably by a deputation, Crowu Prince Ferdinand of Roumania will represent King Charles. The Grand Duke George, heir to the throne, will return at once to Abbas Tuman, which he left to go to Livadia. He is too sick to venture a journey north for the funeral. It is said that after the funeral the Czarina will devote herself to nursing him.

London, Nov. S.—The Dauly News correspondent in Vienna says: "The relatives of the Kilinski convicts have petitioned the Czar to pardon them. Gen. Gourko received the petition. This is regarded as proof of an impending change in the situation, se Gen. Gourko never proviously accepted a petition. It is reported in Warsaw that the Grand Duke Paul will succeed Gourko."

Warsaw that the Grand Duke Paul will succeed Gourko."

YALTA. Nov. 8.—Throughout the march from Livadia to Yalta minute gups were fired by the war ships off the coast, bells were toiled, and muffled drums were beaten. After the service on the quay the Czar and the Grand Dukes carried the coffin aboard the Pamiat Merkooria, which sailed at once for Sevastopol.

SEVASTOPOL. Nov. 8.—The cruiser Pamiat Merkooria, with the body of Alexander III., arrived here this afternoon amid the firing of salutes and the tolling of beils. The Czar and the Grand Dukes carried the coffin ashore and placed it in a railway carriage fitted as a funeral chapel. The train started northward at once. High military officers will guard the body throughout the journey to St. Petersburg.

The train started northward at once. High military officers will guard the body throughout the journey to St. Petersburg.

Moscow, Nov. 8.—This city is making ready to receive the body of Alexander III. with all the pump of mourning. The streets have been hung with black. The fronts of many nouses and shops have been hidden with black and white cloth. Flags wound with crape are seen in every window. On the corners and in the squares functal arches are building with feverish haste. In the Kremilia scores of workingmen are kept busy night and day. They have laid a wide beard walk from the Cathedral of the Assumption past the palace to the Cathedral of the Archangel Michael, where the body will lie in state. The immense canfalque is almost done. It occupies nearly a haif of the small floor. The Cathedral of the Assumption, which is used for coronation cerumonles, is much larger than the Cathedral of the Archangel Michael, but is not so beautiful, as the latter building has been filled with precious pictures and gems of gold, brass, and wood carving.

The city is sparing nothing in its efforts to show loyalty and sorrow. Subscriptions for a monument to Alexander III. in Moscow have been opened. The weather is hitterly cold, but clear and dry.

BEBLIN, Nov. 8.—Many Catholic priests in Russian Poland have been arrested for refusing to take the cath of allegiance to the new Czar. At Lublin Bishon Jaciewski was arrested for resulting the coath in Polish.

The Kähnische Zeitung says that Nicholas II. and Princess Alix of Hesse will be married in three months.

three reanths.

Roun, Nov. 8.—The Crown Prince will go to the funeral in St. Petersburg.

IN MEMORY OF THE CZAR.

Requiem Mans Celebrated at the Greek Caurch-The Service. A requiem main for the repose of the soul of the late Alexander III., Emperor of Russia, was celebrated at the Greek church, 340 West Fifty-third street, at 10:00 o'clock yesterday morning. The little unpretentious church was densely packed with people of many national-ities and many faiths, all anxious to do honor to the memory of the dead Czar. The scene was sombre and impressive. The church was drawed in hine.

draped in black, the congregation were dressed in black, and black crosses adorned the whitewashed walls. The only dash of color was furnished by the uniforms and decorations of the various consuls and officers, who were all massed together on one side of the room. Soon after 10:30 a wicker door in the wooden partition which separates the alter from the ongregation was thrown open, and a blackrols I priest emerged. Bowing many times to the altar, the priest chanted a short prayer in Russian. Then he retired, and the reader at the side of the room read some prayers from the service of the Greek Church for the burisl of the dead. Next two priests, in gorgeous gilded robes, came forward to the front of the altar. On one side of the priests stood the singers, two Indies and one man, on the other the censer-bearer. In front, between the priests and the ladies and one man, on the other the censer-benrer. In front, between the priests and the altar, was the "Koutsia," resting on a black-draped stand. The koutsia is a dish containing rice and raisins, the emblem of resurrection. It is used at baptisms and burials, like the sait in the Roman (atholic service.

The music consisted of a weird and solemn direction of the priests. At one time the priest would sing alone in a deep bass voice, at others the three choristers would add the upper paris. From time to time, while the direct would sing alone in a deep bass voice, at others the three choristers would add the upper paris. From time to time, while the direction, the second priest would take the sliver censer from the bearer and sprinkle incense over the singers and bystanders and the koutsia. All thus favored devoutly crossed themselves. When the direct was over the two readers intoned the Kyrie Eleison, one of them singing a kind of melody while the other put in a monotone accompaniment, like the drone of the bagpipes or the pedial note in a fugue. The ceremony ended with a second sprinkling of incense.

Nearly all the Consuls in New York were present, among others Messys. P. Sanderson, Great Britain: Paul d'Alsac, France; Giovanni P. Riva, Italy; Antonio Baldasano, Spain; Henri M. Braem, Denmark; Demetrius N. Hotassi, Greece; Karl Woxen, Sweden; Naayemon Hashkiguchi, Japan; August Foigel, German Empire.

Prince Gregory Galitzen, member of the Imperial Council of Russia, and Prince Alexander Galitzen were also present. The invitations were issued by Mr. A. E. Olarovsky, Consul-General of Russia, who was present with his entire household.

The officialing priests were Fathers Agatha-dora and Metrolan, the latter of whom started teneral of russia, who was present with his entire household.

The officialing priests were Fathers Agathadora and Metrojan, the latter of whom started for Russia seon after the ceremony. The French and Russian colonies were particularly well represented.

The Services in Washington.

at the Russian Legation in memory of the late Emperor Alexander III. will begin at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning, and will consist of a solemn requiem mass, of which the celebrant will be Bishop Nicolas of the Greek Church of San Francisco. The President and his Cabinet have been invited to be present, and unless unforeseen contingencies of filness or other causes arise. Mr. Cleveland and his Secretary of State and other Cabinet officials will be present.

Invitations have also been extended through the French Ambassador, Mr. Patenotre, acting dean of the diplomatic oros, to the chief representatives of foreign Governments now in Washington, and all who are in the city have accepted. As the available space in the legation for the memorial services is not capable of seating more than 125 guests, the invitations have of necessity been limited to the President and his Cabinet and the diplomatic corps, and do not include Judges of the Supreme Court and Senators and Representatives, as is usual on such occasions. contingencies of illness or other causes

EMPIRE THEATRE DEFEATED. The Appeal of the Managers for a Rehear ing of the Case Is Denied,

LONDON, Nov. 8 .- The hearing on the order issued by the Court of Queen's Bench to the London County Council to show cause why a rehearing should not be granted in the case of the Empire Music Hall, the liquor license of which was revoked when its promenade was closed, was held to-day. After argument the appeal of the managers of the music hall that the case be reopened was denied.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO.

BUDAPEST, Noy. 8. Francis Kosauth is about to make a tour of Hungary. He will be accomto make a tour of Hungary. He will be accom-panied by six Deputies, who will introduce him everywhere as the leader of the party of 1848 and the independence group of to-day. As he has not taken the oath of allegiance to the King and Constitution, Kossuth is regarded as a foreigner and might be expelled. It is likely that he will be ordered to swear alle-giance, or, as a foreigner, to abstain from politi-cal agitation.

LONDON, Nov. 8.- Haddon Chambers's new play, "John A. Dreams," was produced at the Haymarket this evening with Beerbohm Tree and Mrs. Patrick Campbell in the principal parts. The piece is exciting and dramatic, and was received heartly. Mrs. Tree did not act, but occupied the royal box, with Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, Mr. and Mrs. Asquith, and Chief Justice Lord Bussell as her guests.

Diamond Workers on Strike. AMSTERDAM, Nov. 8 .- More than 8,000 diamond workers struck here yesterday for higher vages, and eighty factories are closed. The employers will yield probably if the strikers hold out, but eventually will remove their business to another city, owing to their repeated difficulties with the mea in this district.

BERLIN, Nov. 8. - The Anarchists Schans and Draegec have been sentenced respectively to twelve years imprisonment and the loss of civil rights for ten years, and five years imprisonment. The crime for which Schana was condemned was the shouting of a policeman who had taken him into custody. Draegec was his accomplice.

MRS. WILLIAMS ONCE MORE THE NOTORIOUS SPIRITUALIST EX-

She Was Working the Doll Trick Which She Flayed So Successfully in New York for So Long Before the First Exposure.

News comes from Paris of the exposure there of the notorious Mrs. Mary E. Williams, the spirit medium of 232 West Forty-sixth street, this city, whose experiences here in the last fourteen years have included a long series of exposures. Mrs. Williams, as a speck-pricatess, second in notoriety only to the Diss De Bar, whose friendship for Lawyer Luther it. Marsh cost him so much; and it is said that her business has been even more profitable. Besides the house in West Forty-sixth street, she owns a country place at Long Branch, also the our-come of successful working of the credulous. and she has funds in bank.

On Oct. 13 Mrs. Williams sailed for Havre on the French line steamer La Hourgogne, in the company of a Mr. Macdonald, whom she calls her "manager;" presumably of the spirits she materializes. For some time she had not been prominent in the circles of spiritualism here because her latest exposure, three years ago, had wenned many of the friends who had looked up to her as something altogether out of the ordinary. It is said that she was so disheartened by the defection, and by the money stringency that t caused, that she settled upon Europe as a fresh field that she might work without fear of WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The religious services Arrived in Paris, she had no difficulty in getting on. One M. Leymaire, much interested in spiritualism, took her in hand and introduced her to his friends. It was arranged that Mrs. Williams's first scance should be in the bouse of the Duchesse Pompard, also a Spiritualist. A distinguished company was invited, and the seance would have been a great success had not the Duc Pempard thought Mrs. Williams's materialization too wenderful to be genuine. At a repetition of the seances a few nights afterward, he was convinced that they were altogether too wonderful, and that brought the séances at Mme. Pompard's to an end.

Mrs. Williams was boarding in the house of a Mme. Raulot, whose sister is a medium, but ust an ordinary one. Mrs. Williams arranged to give seances there, and she did such wonderful things again that Mme. Raulot's suspicions were aroused, too. A trap was laid for Mrs. Williams and Mr. Macdonald, who helped her. While Mrs. Williams was materializing spirits Macdonald was seized, and somebody turned up the lights. The materialized spirit was found to be a doll strung on wires, one end of which Mrs. Williams was working and Macdonald the other. Mrs. Williams were a man's clothes and had a big bag tied around her waist in which to carry the doli and its muslin draperies. When the exposure came Mrs. Williams tried o escape, but was caught and made to refund see a personned was denied.

IHE CATPLE EMBARGO.

Bienned Animals Said to Mave Been Administed a Manutury as Healthy.

Bienned Animals Said to Mave Been Administed a Manutury as Healthy.

Breitis, Nov. 8.—Pacts which have come to the household of the through the high the h the money she had taken from the spectators for admission. She had charged them from $2 to $4. She was threatened with arrest, but was finally let go, She fled to England and at once

In the summer of 1891 came the great expos-In the summer of 1831 came the great exposure of her methods which compolies her to seek retirement for a time. Not since then has she been prominently before the public. She has attended Spiritualist meetings at Carnegie Hall and Adelphi Hall regularly, but has never sought to regain the notoriety she had for so long. Her present adventure in Paris will doubtless recall her to many who had forgotten her.

RATES IN THE SOUTHWEST. Bulings by the Chairman of the South-

western Traffe Association. St. Louis, Nov. 8. Chairman Day of the Southwestern Traffic Association has decided in favor of a continuation of the existing proportional rates on iron and iron articles applicable west of the Mississippi River, which will have the effect of continuing the present through rates on those commodities. His decision requires, however, that on all other traffic lines quires, however, that on all other traffic lines west of the Mississippi, north of Vicksburg, and lines from New Orieans and Shreveport, La., shall charge their full local rates, which has the effect of materially advancing the through rates from the Southeast territory. This decision refers only to territory south of Louisville, Cincinnati, Knoxville, and seaboard territories, including what is now known as Nashville, Alianta, and Carolina territory. The Chaleman had reserved his decision relative to Louisville, Cincinnati, and Knoxville territories until a further investigation of conditions can be made.

The Betroit, Bay City and Alpens Sold. ALPENA, Mich., Nov. 8.-The Detroit, Bay City and Aipena Railway was sold at noon today to a representative of Drexel, Morgan & Co. for the bondholders of the road. The consideration was $1,000,000. A reorganization will shortly follow.

DRAWINGS AT THE UNION LEAGUE A Black and White Exhibition to Open the

The first of the exhibitions of pictures at the Union League Club is of black and whites, that phrase being permitted to cover a number of water colors and oil paintings made for reproduction as illustrations. The private view took place yesterday afternoon. Many of the drawings have been loaned by the publishers of the magazines in which the engravings of them have appeared, while a few of them are loaned by private collectors, and have never been pub-

There are god numbers in the catalogue which, however, does not include mention of a lot of droll drawings by Nast, many of which are of immediate and transient interest because of their reference to certain political events of the past few weeks. One of them is a drawing of a very fat man in a freek coat and about a nineteen-inch collar. There is no head on the figure by which to identify it, but it appeared to be recognized and to give great joy to the club members present yesterday.

Perhaps the eleverest drawings shown are Mr.

E. A. Abbey's illustrations to "Tweifth Night,"
"The Tempest," "Merry Wives of Windsor, Measure for Measure," "As You Like It," and Merchant of Venice," and Mr. Robert Blum's two or three Japanese drawings in wash. These are am ng the most skilful examples of illustra tion shown. Mr. Dana Gibson, who has had a considerable vogue, and whose recent types of the Parisian boulevards have attracted attenconsiderable vogue, and whose recent types of the Parisian boulevards have attracted attention, is represented in several of his characterletic drawings, original in style and method, but a trifle monotonous in the incessant repetition of a few favorite models.

Frederic Remington, the capable historian of the plains, shows his clever drawings of the "Cowboys Coming to Town for Christmas" (which promises to be a very spirited Christmas is this particular town), and other subjects.

Mr. C. S. Reinhart hos a portrait of Charles Dudley Warner and a number of drawings to Mr. Warner's stories. Mr. W. T. Smedley, one of the most finished and genteel of the filmtrators of polite life, has a number of drawings in color of art students in the picture galleries and a "Sunday Morning on Fifth Avenue."

There is a charming "Study of a Girl," by W.
L. Metcalf, in pencil, a nude figure of a young woman with a violin, delightful in drawing and exquisite in handling. Howard Pyle's "Pastoral Without Words" is a series of beautiful drawings full of poetic sentiment.

Mr. F. S. Church has two drawings, Mr. de Thulstrup and Mr. Zogbaum each has several illustrations of the more or less photographic sort, but artistically treated, and there are clever pictures by Otto H. Racher, E. H.
Blashfield, Dan Smith, Mrs. Alice Barber
Stephens, Miss G. A. Davis, Max Klepper, A. B. Wenzell, Van Schaick, George Wharton Edwards, Albert E. Sterner, A.
Castaigne, Harry Fenn, Malcom Franke, Gilbert
Ganl, I. R. Wiles, Lettis Loeb, Will H. Low, Eric Pape, West Clinedinst, F. V. Du Mond, H.
A. Ogden, J. R. Wegulin, A. B. Frost, Herbert
Denman, Cariton Chapman, Frank D. Millet, and suci militators of Dana Gibson as Granville smith and Charles Howard Johnson, Besides these there were comics by Nast, T. S. Sullivant, E. Zimmerman, Peter Newell, and others.

Among the European artists in black and white represented in this interesting exhibition are Detaille, with several military studies; some illustrations for "Boccaccio," minutely finished,

There are interesting drawings also from the pencils of William Blake and George Crulk-shank. NAPOLEONIC RELICS.

Furniture, Tapestries, Miniatures, and Bric-a-brae of Louis XV, and XVI.

The passion for relies of the Napoleonic period has brought to light many interesting and curious objects related to that famous time. Indeed, there has been incentive for the production of many forged and spurious mementos of Napoleon to supply the inordinate and indiscriminating demand.

An unusual collection of such objects has been put on view at the Fifth Avenue Auction Rooms. It comes from the collection of Mr. Georges Le Metayer de Guy of Paris, and embraces furniture from the Tuileries, Trianon, Malmaison, and Fountainebleau, and from the Borghese palace at Rome at the time of its occupancy by and Fountainebleau, and from the Borghese palace at Rome at the time of its occupancy by Princess Fauline Bonaparte, and furniture and tapestries of the periods of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, bronzes, Sèvres porcelains, miniatures, and brie-a-brac.

Among the personal relics of Napoleon are his ribbon of the Leagon of Honor, epaulette straps, and vest coat plastron, to the authenticity of which Napoleon's valet de chambre, Evrard, has certified in writing; the tube of a telescope used by the Emperce on his return from Elba in 1815; a crystal casket containing a bit of his coffin and another with a lock of his hair; bits of tapestry and wall hangings from the bedroom and living rooms at St. Heleus; an original bronze study of the statue of Napoleon erected as a statue at Boulogne-sur-Mer, and signed by Harre: Sèvres vases, one pair, in emerald green, with portraits by Maglin of Napoleon and Josephine, and an authentic drawing-room tabouret from the first salon of the Palais des Tuileries.

Among the beautiful pieces of furniture, in which the collection is rich, is a notable bed-stead of the first empire in mahogany. It is decorated with solid gilt devices and ormolu, and has gilt claw feet.

There are many statuettes of Napoleon and a large collection of swords of officers of the first and second empires, clocks of great beauty, a wonderful dinner service of 130 pieces made by Lerosey for the Comte de Carnonds at a cost of 32,000 frames, mirrors, antique fans, beautifully painted, many very good tapestries, and a collection of paintings and miniatures, the miniatures all being appropriately englosed in frames of their own periods. Among the pictures are several colored engravings of Napoleon. The miniatures include portraits of Napoleon. The miniatures include portraits of Napoleon. Mine, de Motteville, Mine, de Pompadour, by Souty Farcy after Latour; Mile, Vestris, Mme, Recamler, by Vergin; Marie Antoinette and her two children, done by Colomb in 1788; Marie de Medicis, Motiere; Empress Josephine

An Exhibition at the Grotter Club of Some

There was a private view at the monthly meeting of the Gralier Club last evening of some early printed books from the collection presented to the club by Mr. David Wolfe Bruce. The volumes displayed do not merely illustrate the carly workmanship of the bookmaker, but are of especial historical value as containing the first notices in print of the invention of typography by Gutenberg.

Mr. David Wolfe Bruce and his father, the Mr. David Wolfe Bruce and his father, the late George Brace, were engaged for some fifty years in getting together early works relating to printing, and their library included a unique collection of apecimen backs of type. In its recent division the backs especially relating to printing were given to Typothete, and the inconabula and backs on bibliography and literary history were presented to the Groller Club. The club will make fac similes of pages containing notices of the invention of printing and will publish them in an enlarged estalogue.

Among the early printers represented in this collection are Gutenberg himself, the inventor of movable types; Peter and John Schaeffer, his carly associates and successors, and Koberger, Jensen, De spira, Hahn, Aldus, and Kerver, with backs printed as early as 1469 at Mainz, and later at Strasburg, Cologne, and Nuremberg. Thore are also some volumes printed by Albert Dürer, and early French and Italian works as well.

THE PORTRAIT EXHIBITION.

Many Notable Persons at the First of the Despite the inclement weather, many notable people attended yesterday the first Thursday tea held at the Loan Exhibition of Portraits of Women at the National Academy of Design, and a handsome sum was realized for St. John's fiuld and the Orthopsedic Hospital. The Hungarian Hand played and there were many beautiful flowers in evidence.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg and Mrs. Charles de Rham. Jr., assisted by Mrs. Cooper Hewitt, Miss Elinor Robinson, and Mrs. Archie Pell. Among the visitors to the exhibition were Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and her daughter, Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt; Mrs. Buchasian Winthrop, Mrs. John A. Lowery, Mrs. William Jay, J. Coleman Drayton, Mrs. William Rutherford Mead. Miss Hewitt, Thomas Hitchoock, Jr., Mrs. Thomas L. Manson, Jr., Dr. Maynard, Mrs. J. Madison Taylor of Philadelphia, Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. Frederic R. Jones, Mrs. John E. Cowilin, Mrs. John Monroe, Mrs. Woodworth, Miss Woodworth, Mrs. and Mrs. Cornelius Fellows, Miss Aimee Lawrence, Miss Madeleing Lewis, John Bereaford, and Mrs. H. B. Hollins. Women at the National Academy of Design

Liquor Licenso Fors Reduced in New

NEW HAVEN, CORR., Nov. 8.—The New Haves County Commissioners to-day voted to reduce the retail liquor dealers' tax from $400 a year to $300. This is done in accordance with an agreement with the other County Commissioners of the State. Hard times is the reason given for the reduction. DEATH OF MIKE KELLY. THE WELL-KNOWN BASEBALL PLAT-

Londonderry PINTS Lithia

STILL I SPARKLING ... SOLD EVERYWHERE LONDONDERRY LITHIAT SPRING WATER CO.

MASHUA. M.H.

MUST BE SAILED OFF NEW YORK.

That Is What the New York Yacht Club Cabled to Lord Dunraven Last Night, The New York Yacht Club held a special meeting at its club house, 97 Madison avenue, last night, to consider a letter from Lord Dunraven looking forward to a challenge for the America's Cup. There was a large attendance, and any number of well-known yachtsmen were present. Among them were: Rear Commodore Royal Phelps Carroll, H. W. Coates, James D. Smith, Gouverneur Kortright, Theodore Zerega, John F. Lovejoy, David Banks, E. J. Greacen, Augustin Munro, A. Cary Smith, J. Peavor Webb, L. L. Callanan, Henry E. Abbey, James A. Harriman, John R. Dickerson, Thomas Manning, H. C. Wintringham, J. C. Bergen, Chester Muaroe, Jules A. Montant, E. E. Chase, A. B. Jones, L. Vaughn Clark, H. H. Hendricks, C. B. Hendricks, R. S. Palmer, Henry C. Ward, E. B. Havens, and Henry Belknap

Vice-Commodore E. M. Brown presided, while J. V. S. Oddie acted as Secretary. Lord Dunraven's letter reads as follows:

Vice-Commodore E. M. Brown presided, while
J. V. S. Oddie acted as Secretary. Lord Dunraven's letter reads as follows:

DERAMA. OBDIE: I Should have written you before now on the subject at challenging for the "America Cuto" but that I was an challenging for the "America Cuto" but that I was an challenging for the "America Cuto" but that I was an the subject of the wast alterations. If any, were along so to see any of the subject of the wast alterations in any, were subject on the R. Y. A. rating rule. However, as time is running for R. Y. A. rating rule. However, as time is running for the waster of the subject o to-day, when clear, colder weather should set in from the north and west. Rain fell all day in this city, with fog over the river; and bay: average humidity, 97 per cent.; wind north-east, average velocity 12 miles an hour; highest official temperature 40°, lowest 30°; barometer corrected to read to sea level at 8 A. M., 30.05; B.P. M. ing, recorded the temperature yesterday as follows:

Average on Nov. 8, 1893 WASHINGTON FORECAST FOR PRIDAY. For Mains, New Hampshire, and Vermont-Snow in the early morning, followed by fair; cast to north probably rain or snow near the coast; cooler in ex-treme southeast portion, north winds. For Rhode Island and Connecticut-Rain or snow. followed by fair; north winds. for Eintern New York—Buin or snow in the early norming, followed by fair; north winds, becoming vari-

For New Jersey-Showers in the early morning, followed by fair; cooler in southern portion; north winds, becoming variable. For the District of Columbia, Eastern Pennsylvania.

Maryland, and Delaware Generally fair, north winds, Ohio-Fair, except rain or snow near the lakes; warmer; winds shifting to southeast.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE.

A combination that tells—but never tells tales: a corner, a screen, and a couple of conversation chairs Just the chairs and just the acroens here you will need, at just the price you can pay much or little. Single chairs, odd, picturesque shapes, pr chairs united. Siamese fashion, covered with fluest satin damask, in delicate colors, or with heavier stiffs. Screens or chairs—either—in present styles or old time "BUY OF THE MAKER."

> 48, 45, AND 47 WEST 83D ST., Near Breadway,

ER SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA.

He Was Sick Only Three Days - For Twelve Years Kelly Was Reserved as One of the Strongest Players in the Profession-Seven Years Ago the Bostons Purchased His Release from Chiengo for $10,000-His Last Appearance on the Diamond Was with the New Yonkers Team, Bosros, Nov. 8. Mike Kelly, the well-known aseball player, died to-night at the Emergency Hospital. He came here last Monday morning to Join the London Galety Girls' theatrical company and was taken sick shortly afterward with pneumonia. He rallied on Monday evening, but since then has been failing until his death to-night.

Michael J. Kelly was born at Troy, N. Y., in 1856. He made his first appearance as a player twenty years later with the Olympics of Paterson, N. J. During the latter part of 1877 be was catcher for Jim McCormick in the Buckeyes team of Columbus, and they soon became universally known as the "Jersey battery." From Columbus Kelly went to the Cincinnati Club, for the season of 1878, play-ing right field and change catcher. In 1879 he went to California with the Cincinnati-Buffalo Club, and in 1880 he was en-gaged by the Chicago Club. It was while under Capt. Anson that Kelly became famous. He played nearly every position on the team, was a tremendous batter, a daring base runner, and was universally notes for his tricks. As a "kicker" he outclassed every other player in the profession, and great crowds attended the games just to see him argue with the poor, unfortunate umpire. In 1886 he led the League in batting with a percentage of .370, and for that matter, he was always near the top of the list in this respect.

It was in 1886 that Kelly played his celebrated trick of cutting third base. It happened in a game at Boston when the score stood 3 to 3 in the last half of the ninth inning. Kelly was the first batsman, and got his base on called balls. Anson retired on an infield fly, and Kelly then stole second. Pfeffer rolled a slow ball between Burdock and Morrill, and tried to beat it out. The umpire sprinted along to first to make the decision on what was expected to be a close play, never paying the slightest attention to Kelly. The latter ran half way to third and then cut directly across the diamond to the base line between third and home. The crowd began to yell, but the umpire did not turn his head until Mike had slid across the plate. As the umpire had not seen third base cut he could not declare Kelly out, and the game we could not declare Kelly out, and the game wer to Chicago. Another trick that caused commer everywhere was when Kelly stodd on the coach ing line back of third base, with a man on first and asked the pitcher to let him see the bal As a rule the unsuspecting twirler threw th ball over, and Kelly, jumping out of the way, le it roll to the scats, while the man on first woul reach second unmolested.

should be inferior to another vessel or his nationality about the inferior to another vessel or his nationality a contest for the America Cup would have no interest therefore suggest that international test. I would therefore suggest that it should have a sent of the charles and the suggest of th

Jimmy Handler Knocks Out Greenfield. Washington, Nov. 8.—Jimmy Handler of Newark to-tight knocked out Walter Greenfield of Hirmingham, included, in the sixteenth round, at the Eureka A. C., ear this city, in a contest for light-weight honora.

News of the Wheelmen.

The Lenox Wheelmen will hold a reception on Nov. 17. Hoyland Smith, the well-known road racer, is at present to Hagland. present to England.

E. C. Baif recently rode a mile in practice at fipring-field in 1 minute of seconds.

A ten mile scratch and a twenty-five mile handicap road race will be held at Jamaica on Nov. 29.

There is some talk of a match race being arranged between Harry Tyler and E. C. Bald, the record hold-The Long Island City Wheelmen will hold a century run to characte on Nov. 11. A limit of fourte-in hours has been placed upon it. Entries for the run will close Nov. 11.

close Nov. II.

Leonge I. dildeon, the Pennayivania member of the Leonge I. dildeon, the Pennayivania member of the Leo. W. Raeding Beard, and the first choice to succeed II. f. Raymond in the Chairmanship, has mated that an will accept the position of appendicel.

The College Point Wheelmen will held a half-mile handlesp, one wille handlesp, quarter-mile handlesp, one wille handlesp, quarter-mile handlesp, such a ten-nite chair champlesmip on the Merrick, I. L. course on Translegiving bay.

You need not ask men of education, of broad intelligence, of wide interest in affairs, which newspa- 20 per they read: It is The Sun, and It is The Sun 365 days every year. Because of this one copy of The Sun is worth more to an advertiser than ten copies of many other pub-Ilcations.

No old stock in this store. Everything sold the season it's made.

Llama Thibet Overcoats,

An Overcoat without a character is no better than a man without a character.

These Llama Thibets have an advantage over other overcoats, because people know just what they are and just what to expect of them-that's character-good. Silk-lined, $14; without silk lining, $10.

E. O. THOMPSON, Tallor, Clothier and Importer,

245 Broadway.

Bet. Park Place and Murray St. SPECIAL SALE OF TROUSERS AT $4.00 .

STEINITZ STILL LEADING. Interesting Games in the Eighth Round of the Chess Tourney.

Steinstz made an appeal against the decision of the committee, who awarded a game against him on the time-limit rule. He argues that he did not exceed the time, and that the committee ought to have waited until his clock was actually over the time. The committee will decide the matter on Saturday.

The eighth round was played yesterday, when Hanham beat Baird by fine play in the end game; Albin scored against Jasnogrodsky, when the latter might have drawn; Showalter disposed of Halpern in fine style, while Steinitz worsted Delmar by strong play throughout the game. The scores of the games:

THIRD TABLE-RUY LOPEZ. E-RUY LOPEZ.

HYPES.

PHANES.

PHANES. PHILISPERY.

FOURTH TABLE - PRESCH DEFENCE. Kinch L FIFTH TABLE-SCOTCH GAMBIT.

Back P.-K 4 1 Kt-Q B 3 E KKIB OK. 4 H.QB K | K 0 | - Q11 + A

$56.330m Appended is the score of the contestants up to